

At Wilson Albers we all hope you are safe and healthy during these times. With ever-changing government mandates requiring increased amounts of time inside, we want to take this opportunity to reach out with a completely free digital offering for you. The goal at this time is to provide companies access to the ClassPass on-demand digital solution at no charge through June 30. The details are outlined below on how you can take advantage of this offering.

Staying active is not only part of a routine - it's often a critical component of mental well-being. Let your employees know you care by giving them the tools to improve their wellbeing from the comfort and safety of home. [YOUR FIRM NAME] is proud to offer ClassPass' digital solutions for free through June 30th. You'll get unlimited access to over 1,000 on-demand audio & video workouts across strength, cardio, yoga, stretching, meditation and more. Plus, you'll have access to their global network of partners who are live-streaming classes to all 4M+ CP users.

Here's what ClassPass will need to set up a dedicated landing page for your company:

- Company Name
- Number of Employees
- Location(s)
- Contact email address(es) to set up your corporate account

FAQ's:

- Once ClassPass has the above information, they will send you an email with a One-Pager including a sign-up link to share with employees. They can have your program up and running within 1 business day.
- All employees need to sign-up is a company email address. ClassPass won't require credit card information and there are no employee minimums.

As a Wilson Albers client if you would like to provide your company with this special offer please reach out to your Wilson Albers advisor and provide them with the necessary details and they can submit on your behalf.